Seventh Sunday of Easter

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR, FR. JIM BAIRD

I needed to inform you that as of June 14, 2017, I will be leaving Sts. Patrick, Mary and Clare's parishes with schools and the interfaith chapels to begin a new assignment at St. Martin de Porres in Boulder, CO. It is with sadness that I leave, but with thankfulness for my time with you. Please pray for me as I will keep you in my prayers. Fr. Jim

Seventh Sunday of Easter

A bold thought occurred to me the other day. What if the Holy Spirit can do utterly wonderful, breathtaking things in our lives, without our even praying for them? Sometimes I wonder if the strong Catholic instinct to work for justice and peace keeps us in a state of 24/7 alert. I know that I forget that the Holy Spirit is still working miracles that have nothing to do with my efforts. Duh.

You know, it's not like we did so many good works that God decided to give us this wonderful world as a reward. Before any human came to life, the Spirit was hovering over the waters. The Spirit was there at the beginning of the beginning, working the miracle of life, and rivers, and mountains, and sun and moon, and, of course, us. And it was God's glorious initiative to work in intimate concert with Mary to bring the Savior into the world. The Holy Spirit came upon her, and it had nothing to do with any good works anyone did. It was God's mighty power, and Blessed Mother's "yes," that saved us.

I think about this in this week before Pentecost. What if God is working a miracle in your life right now? What if the Holy Spirit is curing an addiction of a loved one, or healing a marriage, or luring an adult child back to the comfort of the Church? What if God is answering long-abandoned prayers that you gave up on because you decided God's answer was "no"? The word "Spirit" means "breath." I challenge you to take note of what God is doing in your life. It will take your breath away.

Think about this past year. What has the Spirit worked in you that you may not even have noticed?
