Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

It's that time of year again. Our sweet, gentle priest-friends from Juarez are here in Denver, visiting us and talking in some parishes about their work at the seminary there. They're staying at the gracious Colorado Vincentian Volunteers (CVV) house downtown, and every single thing anyone does for them is the kindest thing anyone has ever done.

This morning after breakfast I wondered why they weren't moving. It was time to go off on a little trip to the mountains, but they were each lined up, waiting to give me a hug and a kiss and to thank me for the BEST breakfast they had ever had.

They break your hearts, these guys. They are super educated professors at the seminary there, but they live as simply as their poorest parishioners. When I lined up water bottles for them to carry through the hot Denver streets they were incredulous. A water bottle---with our delicious, clean, safe Denver water---for each of them!

It reminded me of Jesus and his friends. They, too, left on those hot desert roads without any of the comforts we think we need. No water bottle, no backpack, no hotel reservation. The urgency of the gospel compelled them out, away from everyone they knew, into the dangerous byways of the Roman world.

Where on earth does one find such simplicity anymore? I find it in our visitors from Juarez, one of the world's poorest cities, that continues to produce salt for the earth and light for the world. And, of course, these friends from our southern border brought beautiful gifts from their parishes to all of us.

Sometimes I have to turn away; the tears are just too close.

Who are the people in your life who remind you of Jesus and his friends?

Sharing the Gospel for Kids

Jesus sent his disciples out in pairs. He gave them control over evil spirits. Through baptism you have control over evil spirits. Jesus is your partner. When you are thinking about taking a toy that is not yours, you can say, "No." When you want to hit someone, you can say, "No." When you would like to break the rules at school, you can say, "No. I choose to walk with Jesus."

Prayer

Lord, give me strength to say, "Yes. I'll obey your commandments."

Mission for the Week

Ask God to bless your family so that they will be able to obey God's commandments.
