Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

How many times were you told as a child, and have since told your own children, that true wisdom comes from learning when to keep your mouth shut? That's a central lesson of our lives, and most of us feel enormous gratitude for the many times we wanted to say something horrible, and didn't. That's true maturity, and society functions so much better when people exercise that discipline. Ahem.

But here's the question: when is it holy and right to speak up? I admit that I congratulate myself every night, when I make my examen, that I showed such maturity in staying quiet in situations where I might have wanted to speak. Hey, I didn't make any waves. And there go my baptism and confirmation vows, right out the window.

I don't know how I missed it for years and years, but the actual image of Jesus that emerges now from the distortions of my youth is One who took issue with the religious and political authorities, and those who were profiting because of them. He put his life at risk—and yes, died terribly for it—every time he spoke, when it was so much smarter to stay silent.

Jesus the Prophet broke all the rules. He healed on the Sabbath. He ate with sinners. He touched the "unclean." He even went into the Temple and discharged those who were cheating the poor. And when he came into Jerusalem the week before his death, he came on a colt, a beast of burden, an animal of peace. The Romans, of course, entering from the west at that same time, came in on their war horses.

Oh, Jesus. How did we miss you?

How has your image of who Jesus truly is changed through the years?

BIOGRAFIA DE SANTA CLARA DE ASIS

Cuando tenía 18 años, subyugada por el ardor evangélico de su compatriota San Francisco de Asís (que acababa de poner en marcha la nueva fraternidad), Clara se confió a su dirección: abandonó su casa, y en la capilla de la Porciúncula, donde vivía San Francisco, tomó el hábito de manos del santo, prometiéndole obediencia.

Inmediatamente fue confiada por Francisco al monasterio benedictino de San Pablo de las Abadesas. Allí tuvo Clara que vencer la enconada oposición de sus parientes. Quince días después, Francisco le procuró un asilo más seguro en el convento de Sant'Angelo in Panzo, en las estribaciones del monte Subasio, donde fue a unírsele, fugada también clandestinamente, su hermana Inés.

Posteriormente, San Francisco dispuso para Clara y sus imitadoras una vivienda, adaptada al ideal de pobreza y sencillez que ella misma anhelaba, junto a la pequeña iglesia de San Damián, restaurada por el santo. Y en ella se instaló el pequeño grupo de Damas Pobres, llamadas luego Clarisas, formado inicialmente por Clara de Asís y otras tres compañeras.

La comunidad femenina imitaba en lo posible la de los hermanos franciscanos.

Durante cuarenta años, Clara fue la superiora del convento de monjas de San Damián. Su vida era de gran austeridad y muy rica en obras de caridad y piedad. Se cuenta que alejó con sus oraciones a los sarracenos que asediaban la población de Asís.

Santa Clara de Asís escribió una Forma de vida en la que insistía en la pobreza y que fue la base para la regla que ella misma redactó con posterioridad (1247-1252), adaptación para las religiosas de la regla franciscana. En 1253, una bula pontificia aprobaba solemnemente la regla que había compuesto. Murió en 1253 y fue canonizada en 1255. Sus restos descansan en la cripta de la iglesia dedicada a la santa en Asís. Su fiesta se celebra el 11 de agosto.

Thank you for your generosity in helping educate and nurture the whole child at St. Clare in the image and likeness of God.

In the Catholic school, "prime responsibility for creating this unique Christian school climate rests with the teachers, as individuals and as a community." Teaching has an extraordinary moral depth and is one of man's most excellent and creative activities, for the teacher does not write on inanimate material, but on the very spirits of human beings. The personal relations between the teacher and the students, therefore, assume an enormous importance and are not limited simply to giving and taking. Moreover, we must remember that teachers and educators fulfill a specific Christian vocation and share an equally specific participation in the mission of the Church, to the extent that "it depends chiefly on them whether the Catholic school achieves its purpose."

Sharing the Gospel for Kids

People in his hometown did not believe that Jesus could be smart enough to teach in their temples. They did not believe he could heal. So he went to other towns to teach and heal. If someone says that you are not smart enough or skilled enough, Jesus understands. He will help you. Tell them, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

Prayer

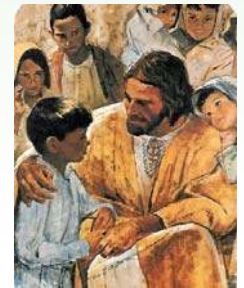

Lord, help me say to myself and others, "You can do it. God will help."

Something to Draw

Draw Jesus welcomed by smiling faces as he teaches and heals in your town.

Mission for the Week

If someone is left out of a game, say, "I will play with you."
