Thirty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

I think that we are all doing the best we can. It's tough out there. We have to be great parents, attentive and available grandparents, debt-free, environmentally conscious, active parishioners, and avidly working on our fat-to-muscle ratio.

Outsiders might look at our rowdy kids and say, "Why doesn't someone teach those parents how to discipline their kids?" Others might say, in the car after the party, "I can't believe they used paper plates when they could have just brought out their regular dishes and washed them later. I thought they were supposed to be such environmentalists." Or, the worst, "She says she's watching her cholesterol, but did you see that piece of cake she ate?"

Looking at us from the outside, it appears that we are hypocritical and lazy. But the Incarnate Jesus, the one who dwells with us, isn't looking from the outside. He dwells within us, and breathes every breath with us. He is with us during the endless sleepless nights we endure with our kids. He is with us when we recycle the annoying cardboard boxes. He is with us when we spend those lonely late-night hours working to get out of debt, or to face and recover from our addictions.

That's what Zaccheus experienced when Jesus, who had talked so often about the dignity and worth of the poor, called this rich man down from the sycamore tree and invited himself over for dinner. The Incarnate One knew he was doing the best he could, and Zaccheus, overjoyed at being held in the embrace of Love, did even better than his best for the rest of his life.

Whose belief in you has inspired you to be the best you can be?

Special Collection for Military Services

This week will have a special collection for Military Services. With no military or government financial assistance, and collections not allowed in military chapels, the AMS must rely wholly on the generosity of the U.S. Catholic community to operate its many programs and services, which include support of Catholic Chaplains as well as maintaining Sacramental Records (baptisms, confirmations, marriages) for anyone receiving the Sacraments at a military installation. This collection is taken once every three years. For more information, visit <https://www.milarch.org/>.

Archdiocese Seminary Appeal

Next week we will have a second collection for the Archdiocese Seminary Appeal. The annual Seminaries Appeal provides significant financial support needed to prepare men for the priesthood in the Archdiocese of Denver. This fund drive helps to support the daily operating needs of the two seminaries including: funding for academic faculty and programs; food and housing; seminarian health insurance, and ongoing building maintenance. For more information please go to <https://sjvdenver.edu/support-sjv-today/annual-parish-appeal/>

There is no evidence that she left the property of San Damiano even once during those 40 years.
